

Rare Pair Of French Modernist Floor Lamps by Maurice Lombart

A rare pair of floor lamps designed by Maurice Lombart for the Hôtel de Ville, Boulogne-Billancourt, circa 1934.
The Hôtel de Ville was designed by architect Tony Garnier with Jacques Debat-Ponsan.
The interiors brought together several important designers of the period, including Jean Prouvé, René Herbst and Maurice Lombart.

Lombart designed furniture and lighting for the building, including these column floor lamps.

We have included a booklet published in 1994 detailing the works of the Hôtel de Ville & an example of this model lamp is held by the Musée des Années 30 in Boulogne-Billancourt, please find link below;

https://musees.boulognebillancourt.com/fr/notice/2020-0-17-lampadaire-aux-trois-colonnes-015e3917-2d68-4709-8aaa-9ccb0f37af5b?utm_source=chatgpt.com

These lamps have been professionally restored/rewired as well as adapted to accommodate shades.

We also have another larger pair of these floor lamps available.

H142 cm (including shade)
H122 cm (to top of bulb holder)
Shade diameter 40cm

Dimensions (cm) H142 cm

£4,000.00
1 available